NVA honoured by British Fencing

The following speech from Keith Smith was read out to NVA members and partners at the NVA National Championships Dinner on Saturday 10th March 2007

Ladies and Gentleman and fellow VETS, (yes Hilary and John have extracted my membership again from me!!)

My apologies for not being with you tonight but I am unavoidably detained at home.

I do hope that you all had a productive AGM and that you are having a fun and successful NVA Championships.

As you know I was stunningly impressed by the organisation of the World Veteran's Championships in Bath back in September and I felt at the time and still feel that the NVA did British Fencing and the world of veterans fencing proud. Since then many federations have said to me how pleased they were that you had made them feel that the Veteran World Championships was being taken very seriously and some said that for the first time they felt they had been treated like truly world class fencers.

This sentiment is echoed by the FIE and by British Fencing. It was also tremendous to see our fencers on the podium and my congratulations once again to all our medal winners.

I admitted at the time to feeling deeply grateful and indeed rather humble as I saw senior veterans laying pistes and doing whatever was needed to make this event so successful. The Opening and Closing Ceremonies were simply great and the whole atmosphere was splendid. The fact that the volunteers paid to volunteer made a truly memorable impression on all those who participated. If we can galvanise this spirit for London 2012 then it will be a truly memorable success.

I feel strongly that British Fencing should always thank those who contribute to fencing and I am pleased to announce that the Honours Committee of British Fencing has decided to award a Gold Medal to David Sweeney for Chairing the Organising Committee and for galvanising his team.

The Honours Committee, upon my proposal, has also, I think for the first time ever, decided to award a second British Fencing Gold Medal to a whole group of people. This second GOLD Medal is awarded to the NVA. This is to recognise the truly immense efforts that were made by all of you in preparing and delivering this splendid Veteran's World Championships.

Once again I hope you all have a very enjoyable evening and I am sorry not to be there.

Very best wishes and my thanks to you all,

Keith

Four Nations

Thanks to Wales for organising an excellent weekend despite the tragic death of Jason Smith. We are proud to be the first holders of the trophy that bears his name. Congratulations to all those who fenced.

We have agreed to run next year's event in Manchester at the end of January.

Commonwealth Championships

Dave Sweeney is looking at travel and accommodation. We are investigating Official tops. Team selection will be the best 4 performers at the weapon in the individual competition.

Ready Steady Fence!!!

The Philbins have been competing again – not with foils and sabres, but with whisks and spoons! Hilary and Jim recently took part in BBC2's Ready Steady Cook programme, which was screened on Tuesday 20 March.

Hilary partnered Phil Vickery (or, as Hilary calls him, "the lovely Phil Vickery"), and Jim assisted Tony Tobin. They donned their aprons and quickly knocked up an amazing selection of dishes. In between their various chopping, stirring and tasting activities they had a few words with host Ainsley Harriott about fencing. It transpired that Ainsley fenced at school, and was keen to demonstrate that he hadn't forgotten it all. (He hadn't.)

In the event, Jim and Tony's gorgonzola-stuffed chicken and upside-down pear cake narrowly beat - by 1 vote - Hilary and Phil's tea-steamed duck with plum sauce followed by hot chocolate soufflé. Jim therefore won the £100 prize, but Hilary seemed very happy at the prospect of a consolatory Ready Steady Cook hamper. And yes – they did get to eat all the food they'd prepared, washed down with a bottle of wine.

Competitive to the end, there was a discussion – sadly, off camera – regarding the scoring. Suffice it to say, Phil Vickery scrawled across Hilary's apron those well known words: "We was robbed!"

For anyone wanting a good laugh – there will be an opportunity to see the programme during the weekend of the Age Group event.

Well, following our AGM at the Nationals, a new season starts for the Vets and I am continuing to encourage all members to take part in team events around the UK (and further) in order to promote our organisation, and particularly to have an enjoyable time in the process.

In February, a team of Vets took part in The Christopher Holdsworth Fencing Competition at Maiden Castle in Durham. It was a mixed team event across all weapons and against 7 other teams mainly comprising university fencers, although an Armed Services Team also took part.

No surprise then that our team were introduced as "The Old Ones!"

Steve Hannah doubled up at Men's Foil and Sabre (fencing electric sabre for the first time) with Janet Pearson fencing Women's Foil, Max Telfer Men's Epee, Carole Seheult Women's Epee and Carol Wengraf Women's Sabre.

The event was organised into poules of teams followed by direct elimination, and we acquitted ourselves very well by being placed in 5th position having missed the semi-final by just two hits.

Everyone taking part told me how much they had enjoyed the event, and I will certainly be organising teams for next year's competition.

The next team opportunity will be the Crystal Team Open on 6th May, and we will be sending three teams to take part. I have already registered our interest with the organisers (entry forms are not yet released at the time of writing).

Each team will comprise 3 fencers – 1 Foilist, 1 Epeeist and 1 Sabreur and team members can be male or female.

So, if you would like to fence please let me know either by 'phone 01908 310516 or email: millsfba@aol.com

I am also looking at other events where NVA members at all levels can take part, and will be calling new members and members of long standing during the course of the year.

Even if you have given up regular competitions, do consider participating during the year as I know from those who have taken part for the first time, that being part of a Vets team is an excellent way to meet new fencing friends and enjoy fencing within a growing and increasingly influential body of UK fencers.
